THE THUMB Conference A Success!

THANK YOU to everyone who joined us on Saturday, October 21 at the Hilton Garden Inn Stony Brook for THE THUMB!

Doctors Demystify, Hand Surgery Resource, LLC, University Hand Center Faculty and visiting professors joined forces for this event, which brought in 55 attendees, and our guest speaker, Dr. Robert Strauch from Columbia, is already scheduled for another Doctors Demystify event next year on Saturday, October 20, 2018.

Welcome to The Thumb conference!

Dr. Larry Hurst, founder of Hand Surgery Resource, LLC, kicks off the event and welcomes the group.

Dr. Robert Strauch from Columbia University discusses fractures of the thumb.

Dr. Alexander Dagum from Stony Brook Medicine discusses congenital thumb disorders.

We had a great turnout and the audience was very engaged!

Bill Redman was on-site to register users for free accounts for Hand Surgery Primer.

We hope you found this event informative and innovative, and we encourage you to learn more about many related hand surgery topics by visiting HandSurgeryPrimer.org and becoming a registered user for FREE!
